SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1866. NATIONAL UNION TICKET.

For Governor,

ALFRED DOCKERY. Of Richmond County.

The Union Meeting.

We publish to-day the proceedings of the Union meeting held in this City on Thursday last. The notice for the Convention was so short, and the difficulty of making it known, owing to the want of mail facilities, was so great, and there is such scarcity of money among the people, that the attendance was not so full as we could have desired .-Those who were present felt that, under the circumstances, it would not be right to hold a Convention, and thus attempt to speak for the State; and so a meeting was organized, and the results of its deliberations are embodied in the proceedings referred to. We heard from many friends who were anxious to be present, but who were prevented by pressing engagements or by the want of means. Letters were received from distinguished Unionists approving the movement, and warmly recommending Gen. ALFRED DOCKERY for Governor. The minds of loval Union men in all parts of the State bear our flag in this important crisis. We invite attention to the resolutions adop-

States as the paramount good. They inculcate what all parties professed in this State, in 1865-submission to the legally expressed They are not bitter or uncharitable. They Raleigh. leave the door open for every honest man to plant himself on the platform of unmistakable loyalty; and in this respect they accord with the views of President Johnson, for he has repeatedly and emphatically declared that no man should be trusted who is not "unmistakably loyal and devoted to the Union." In a word, they embody great Union principles which must, in the end, prevail. In the language of that sterling Union ist, Lewis Thompson, Esq., we should " Make the Union our first and only hope for every thing that is to come hereafter. Our nationality should be the bond of the party, and Congress should be called upon to put the State in a proper condition to be restored by her loyal people. We are farther from restoration to-day than we have been since the surrender, and the tone and temper of the secessionists is infinitely more defiant and overbearing. Let the country fully understand these national issues, and if the people do not sustain us in the long run, there is an end of the government, and anarchy must hereafter prevail." Mr. Thompson also says, "I suggest that Alfred Dockery be recommended for Governor. He is well known as true and worthy, and would be acceptable to all parts of the country, North and South." Such is the advice of one of the purest patriots and one of the ablest statesmen in the country. There is no office which Lewis Thompson would have. He says, "I am willing to fight in the ranks as a private, but cannot accept any other position."

We have good reason to believe that Gen. Dockery will be a candidate. We know he does not desire the office, and that he is averse to mingling in political strife. But he regards the immediate restoration of the Union as of paramount importance; and if his fellow-citizens desire his services, as the indications in all quarters are that they do, he will not withhold them. No man is more thoroughly or more honorably identified with the State and its interests than Alfred Dockerv. He has shown himself in times past the ardent friend of internal improvements and that demanded or deserved the fostering care of the State. He has always been a Union man. He imbibed his Unionism at the pure fountains opened by Washington, and Clay, and Webster; and during all the struggle side with those old Jackson Democrats who with best Southern grades, loved the Union as he did. Gen. Dockery is no party man. He is simply a Union man. He knows no difference between Whigs and Democrats who are Union men, and he would treat them all alike; but, notwithstanding this, his record as an old line Union Whig will not be forgotten by those with whom he formerly acted. On this score he has greatly the advantage of Gov. Worth, for he has were instrumental in involving the country stitutional amendment.

We appeal to the Union men of the State to rouse themselves for the contest. It will be short, but we trust, triumphant for the Union cause. Let every Unionist work, work, work up to and on the day of election. Every thing dear to our State is at stake. If we can not secure her restoration to the Union at the next session of Congress, the result will be, reorganization, confiscation, executions for treason, and negro suffrage. The only way to defeat the radicals, so-called, is to accept the Constitutional amendment. have we ever had the slightest reason to an-The election of Gen. Dockery would, of it- ticipate or presume what it would be. self, place the State on high ground, and would do much to open the way for her return to the Union.

THREATENED WAR IN EUROPE.-The Cable informs us to-day that the insurrectionists in the Island of Candia have been defeated by the Turks. The population of this Island is Christian by three-fourths. They belong to the Greek Church, of which the Czar of Russia is the head. Turkey holds Candia, possession having been given her by the other European powers after the expulsion of that the President also regarded it as Conthe first Napoleon from Egypt. The Christians of Candia recently raised the standard of revolt, and it is supposed have appealed to Russia for help. The Czars have gone to war with Turkey before in a similar quarrel, and are prepared to renew the contest at any astrons and bloody war.

FUNERAL.-We observe that the National flag is liberally suspended, to-day, from the building occupied by the Chief Quartermaster of the Department of North-Carolina,—We take it that this is done out of respect to the memory of defunct Radicalism in North Carolina, whose obsequies are progressing to day with Holden, Thomas, Lehnan, Menninger & Co., as pall-bearers. take it for granted that this is the object of the display. Political antipathy to the Administration, of course, can have nothing to do with it .- Sentinel.

The Sentinel, then, assumes that to display the American flag is to give offence to the national administration. We do not think so. The administration is the peculiar custodian of the flag. It honors the flag, as all "unmistakably loyal" men do in all portions of the country.

The Sentinel loses no opportunity to express its dislike of the American flag. Ordinary prudence, it seems to us, should restrain the Sentinel in this respect, but its feeling against the flag and the loyalty which it symbolizes is so intense that it will crop out on nearly every occasion.

We learn that Seaton "lost his soup" on Thursday. He could not think of going to his dinner along the street where the flag was waving. It is reported that Brother Pell was seen, about 2 P. M., making his way home to his dinner up Hillsborough street, by Mr. Drake's old stand. We trust the health of our worthy cotemporaries will not be injured by these efforts of theirs to avoid walking under or near the flag.

Mail Routes and Post-offices. The special agent for this State, Dr. A. Jobe, is still indefatigably engaged in proseem to have turned instinctively to him, to viding mail facilities for our people. He requests us to say that he would like to have information from all parts of the State in ted. They simply present the Union of the relation to useless mail routes that should be suspended, and also as to routes that should be established. Also, any information in relation to mail facilities that may will of the majority of the American people. be deemed important. Address him at

We learn that about half the post-offices have been re-established in this State.

MEDICAL COLLEGE OF GEORGIA.-Attention is invited to the advertisement of this College, in our paper to-day. This College has an able Faculty, and is said to be in a flourishing condition. It numbers about one thousand graduates since it was founded.

An Indian of the Pamunkey tribe, living at Pocahontas, Va., named Edmund Palwhaty, recently fell from the topmast of a schooner in the James-river and was killed.

AMERICAN GOLD AND SILVER .- The gold and silver products of the United States for the year 1866 have been estimated at from eighty-two to one hundred and six millions. California produced twenty-five millions: Montana, eighteen millions: Nevada sixteen millions ; Idaho, seventeen millions ; Oregon, eight millions : Colorado, seventeen millions: other sources, five millions.

Union men who agree in principle, but who differ as to the details by which the Union should be restored, ought not to fall out by the way. Let this be remembered. Surely ALL can unite on ALFRED DOCK-

Crops.-In certain sections of the State. west and sonthwest, the crops have suffered much by the drought. Except these localities good crops will be made, especially of cotton. Our information in relation to tobacco is slender. Our people generally have reason to be thankful to a kind Providence for its bountiful blessings.

In Arkansas goodcrops of cotton and corn will be made. Some sections suffered from overflow in the Spring, but generally the crops are good, especially the wheat. From Louisiana we learn that the cotton crop is seriously damaged. Louisiana has suffered much from inundations. From middle Alabama the intelligence is of a better character. A friend recently from common schools, and indeed of every interest that section has given us cheering information about the cotton and corn.

A letter from Atlanta to a Northern paper speaks of the fine appearance of the crops ong the Georgia railroads.

Along the Pamunkey in Virginia, says the for the Union he stood like a rock, without | Despatch, the cotton raised is very good, of regard to former party associations, side by long, fine staple and will compare favorably

In some parts of the South the crops will fall short and the people suffer, in other sections the very best crops will be made.

Important Testimony from Mr. Raymond.

Mr. Raymond, it is well known, was a leading member of the first Philadelphia Convention, and the author of the address. never deserted his life-long principles, as He says, in the following article, copied Gov. > What will the Sentinel say to this? "PARTY PLATFORMS AND PRINCIPLES. The Albany Evening Journal manufactures a good many reasons for attaching special portance to what we said a few days since upon a possible collission of authority between two rival bodies, each claiming to be the House of Representatives, and it ascribes to the Times special authority to speak for the President in regard to the action he would take in that contingency. We have no such authority, and, in the article refer red to, expressly stated that we judged of his probable action only from his published opinions on the subject. In no other way

But the Journal is guilty of some flagrant misrepresentation. It says: 'The Times was asked by a Pittsburgh cotemporary whether it regarded the present Congress as a Constitutional body? To this question the Times evasively replies that there is possibly no reason for regarding the present Congress otherwise than as a legitimate and Constitutional body because the President has communicated with it, and approved of acts that were passed by it. We gave no such reason. We said we regarded this Congress as a Constitutional oody, because it embraced a majority of all the members required by law; and we added stitutional, else he would not have signed the bills it passed. "We suggested, as a means of at once doing justice and of averting the threatened danger, the admission of loyal members from loyal States to their seats in Congress. This the Journal styles 'surrendering the vital time. Indeed, it seems that the whole of Europe is now likely to be involved in all.

Albany Journal regarded the exclusion of Europe is now likely to be involved in a dis- loyal men from Congress as a "vital issue" in its party platform? On the 4th of August, in discussing the probable action of the Philadelphia National Convention, the Evening Journal said: 'If the wish is to compact the real Union Party, a platform will be adopted to accomplish this result. And it is possible to agree upon such a platform. We could draw one, and use no single sentence that has not been spoken by the President himself. If we should make any modification whatever in his declared principles, it would only be to render them less 'Radical;' for we never favored either general hanging or indiscrimi-

Our platform would be-1. Security for the future—to be guaranto the Civil Rights and Freedmen's Bureau

2. ADOPTION OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION. 3. The immediate admission to their seats in Congress of all loyal men who can take the test oath ; and 4. The recognition of the right of every

State to regulate the question of suffrage in its own way. If the Philadelphia Pilgrims will give us some such platform as this, a great many will go to Philadelphia-next time. Such a platform, with 'Conservative' and Executive indorsement, would carry recrything before it-it will, whether it has such indorsement

The Philadelphia Convention did give the country just 'such a platform' as the Jonrnal itself recommended:—and the main plank in it was the very one on which the Journal then laid great stress, but which it now repudiates,-namely, the admission to their seats in Congress of all loyal men from loyal States.

The Journal is in the habit of talking a good deal about consistency."
